

Social Work & Counselling Services

Explore and compare different job roles in the nhs.

www.healthcareers.nhs.uk

Social Worker

Job profile -

<https://www.prospects.ac.uk/job-profiles/social-worker>

Psychologist

<https://www.healthcareers.nhs.uk/explore-roles/psychological-therapies/roles-psychological-therapies>

There are several types of Psychologist including;

Clinical/Health - <https://www.bps.org.uk/public>

What are the differences between cynical & health Psychologists -

<https://www.psychology-schoolguide.net/guides/difference-between-health-psychology-and-clinical-psychology/>

Educational - Educational psychologists study how people learn. By evaluating learning methods on student outcomes, these professionals research and strive to improve the instructional process.

How to become...

<https://www.psychology.org/careers/educational-psychologist/>

Forensic psychologists - work with all aspects of the criminal justice system from the psychological aspects of investigation and legal process through to offending behaviour and application of psychological methods to reduce the impact of this and future re-offending.

Occupational - Occupational psychologists study humans and their behaviour in work-related environments. They examine the ways in which employees behave both as individuals and in groups across a variety of sectors and industries.

Added to this are;

Psychoanalyst

Psychoanalysts help patients work through the process of uncovering and coming to terms with the impact of the unconscious mind on their lives so they can work through their issues.

<https://www.inputyouth.co.uk/jobguides/job-psychoanalyst.html>

Psychotherapists

A psychotherapist or therapist is a trained professional who assists people with various mental health conditions